AMERICANS IN JAPAN OPPOSE CALIFORNIA'S ALIEN BILLS

Message Is Sent Telling Of Feeling Aroused By Measures

DANGER IS SEEN

American Association In Tokio And Other Bodies Are Taking Action

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, Oct. 7.—The following message, asking for more careful consideration by Americans of the international interests, involved in the action of the California electorate, has been despatched by the Japan-America Society to Mr. Charles Vanderlip, the president of the Japan Society of America:

"We, on behalf of the American members of the Japan-America Society, representing all phases of American activities, feel that the situation here compels us to apprise out countrymen of the intensity of feeling, engendered throughout Japan by the action contemplated in California, which threatens the estrangement of the two peoples and the destruction of their friendship of long standing.

"In acknowledgment of the just treatment we have received from the Japanese Government and people, we commend to our countrymen more careful consideration of the international interests involved and solicit their patience and reliance on the accredited representatives of Japan and America to effect a solution, which will not contravene the principles of equity and justice and will at the same time protect mutual interests. We further urge your immediate co-operation in giving the widest publicity possible to this resolution.

(Signed, for the American members of the Executive Committee) William Keane, Secretary.

ANOTHER MESSAGE

Another message has been sent to Mr. Vanderlip by Viscount Kaneko, the President of the Japan-America Society, as follows: "The progress of the Anti-Japanese movement in California is seriously watched here both by the Government and the people. If it is carried too far, the outcome will be hard to foretell. Our Japanese members are trying to exert all their moral force in Japan for the amelioration of the situation.

"In informing you of this, let us repeat our ardent wish that the mutual co-operation of both Associations will contribute to a rational solution of the difficulties."

CABLEGRAMS SENT

Tokio, October 6.—Important local developments in the American-Japanese situation are announced. The American Associations of Tokio and Yokohama have sent the following cablegram to the Secretary of State in Washington:

"We, the American Associations of Yokohama and Tokio, in conference, definitely representing all American interests in Japan, business, missionary and professional, have resolved to notify our countrymen with the intense feeling aroused throughout Japan by the present action in California, which is threatening the destruction of the traditional friendship, and the future estrangement of the two peoples.

"We earnestly beg our countrymen to act with patience and careful deliberation, trusting the respective Governments to find a solution satisfactory and effective, without any affront to Japan, or sacrifice of principles or equity on either side. (Signed). Swift, President American Association, Tokio.

"Poole, President American Association, Yokohama."

It is expected that the American Association at Kobe will take independent action, endorsing this action.

(Reuter's Service)

New York, Oct. 5.—The organisation of the Chinese Consortium Conference has been completed. The American, British, French and Japanese delegates are due to meet here on October 11.

The two Japanese representatives have already arrived.

The American group comprises 37 financial houses.

The Conference will probably consider applications from bankers of other nationalities seeking for membership of the Consortium.

It will probably also consider the question of Chinese currency reform and railway matters.

Irkutsk Arrests Increase; Social Rebels Take Flight

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Vladivostok, October 6.—The Vladivostok delegate has telegraphed from Chita as follows:

"At Irkutsk the Verdhne-Udinsk Communists are arresting all Social Revolutionaries, and not permitting them to participate in political meetings. Many people are trying to escape eastwards. Discontinue despatching invalids and workmen to Russia. Former echelons are hung up at Irkutsk in a precarious condition."

The Zabaikal Cossacks, at a meeting at Chita, unanimously adopted a declaration to continue the struggle against the Bolshevists.

The Chairman of the Chita Assembly has stated that the Assembly will not deviate from, but steadily pursue, a middle course, and hopes for the co-operation of all Cossacks.

POLICE OFFICER IN KOREA HOLDS OPTIMISTIC VIEW

Reorganisation, He Says, Has Effect Of Restoring Order In Country

SYNGMAN RHEE IS DEFIANT

Provisional President Who Is Now In Honolulu Denounces Reforms

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, October 7.—Mr. Akaje, the Chief of Police of the Korean Government-General, in the course of a speech before the Seiyukai Colonial Investigation Committee, declared that since the governmental reorganisation peace had been almost completely restored in Korea, and, despite spasmodic recrudescences, disturbances had been practically quelled. He added that the recent removal of the censorship indicated a rapid return of normal conditions. The so-called Provisional Government at Shanghai had cut off funds for the Peninsula. In his opinion, pro-Americanism in Korea was on the wane.

DENOUNCES REFORMS

(Reuter's Service)

Honolulu, Sept. 5 (by mail).—Dr. Syngman Rhee, president of the provisional government of Korea, who is spending some weeks in Honolulu, denounces Japan's recent announcement of proposed reforms in Korea as pretence designed to mislead the western world.

Koreans, said Dr. Rhee, will not rest until they have attained their complete independence from Japan.

Dr. Rhee referred to the announcement by the Governor General of Korea, Baron Saito, of the imminence of local self-government in Korean communities.

"This official announcement," said Dr. Rhee, "is in harmony with Japanese policy in Korea for the past 10 years. Korea is covered with a screen of Japanese words. Japan shows one face to the western world and a different one to the East.

DEMAND INDEPENDENCE

"To the Korean people it makes little difference what promises the Japanese make regard to Korea," the Provisional President continued.

"The 20,000,000 Koreans are determined to claim that Korea belongs to the Korean people, that they have the inalienable right to determine their own destiny, and that they must have a government of their own choice. They will not abandon the struggle until they have reached their goal—complete independence."

High Prices Are Blamed From Business Depression

(Reuter's Service)

London, October 5.—Illuminating explanations of why the English commercial community is experiencing a period of depression were afforded today by Mr. Peter Rylands, the President of the Federation of British Industries, in the course of an address to the London Steel and Iron Exchange.

He stated that the demand for British productions had diminished owing to prices rising above the consumer's capacity to pay them and also that since the armistice Great Britain had fulfilled a large proportion of world orders, which continental manufacturers and interests had hitherto been unable to undertake, (at the same time the United States was handicapped owing to the rate of exchange) but, Mr. Rylands showed, the position was now changing owing to the revival of German and Belgian trade competition.

The Government was encouraging deflation and removing subsidies, thereby raising the cost of living at the moment when industries were endangered by serious competition.

Mr. Rylands, replying to a suggestion, said that he was sure that manufacturers would be only too willing to adopt a policy of fixing stable prices for certain periods as far as practicable.

Reprisals Blamed On Government Attitude By Ex-Premier

(Reuter's Service)

London, October 5.—The Daily Mail, reflecting on the changed attitude with regard to Lord Mayor McSweeney, declares that a wondering public is asking how it is done.

"The Lord Mayor has fasted for 54 days," the Journal says "and yet his hand is steady enough for him to shave himself every morning. He reads the newspaper daily with interest."

The Daily Mail says that official reports to the Government state that there is no reason to think that death is near and that he is in no immediate danger whilst a medical man points out that by now he should have lost nearly all his fat, over one-fourth of his blood, one sixth of his lungs and an eighth of his bones and his body should have shrunken, his eyes should be hollow, his skin parched and shrivelled and his limbs wasted.

REPRISALS DISCOURAGED

London, October 6.—An idea is gaining ground in reliable quarters that, while police and military reprisals in Ireland will be discouraged henceforward, another move is imminent with the object of reasserting the authority of the Government. This is evidenced by the increasing number of raids on Sinn Fein Courts, which hitherto have not been frequently interfered with.

Following on the dispersal of the "Sinn Fein quarter-sessions" at Wexford, a naval and military detachment surrounded the Town Hall, where the Mayor was presiding at an illegal court. The Mayor was arrested. He protested that he had the right to hold the court but was removed to jail with the other officials of the court.

It is believed that this new form of activity, which, it is recognised, will entail wholesale arrests of Sinn Fein leaders, will be in full swing before the reassembling of Parliament on October 19.

London, October 4.—A crop of fresh outrages in Ireland marked the week-end.

One policeman was killed and several injured at Cork.

Soldiers were fired on in Dublin and a sergeant wounded.

A rifle raid was made upon a Unionist farmer at Carrickmacross, County Monaghan, when Sinn Feiners shot the farmer upon his opening the door. The farmer's condition is very critical.

A fierce bomb and rifle attack was made upon the French Park barracks, County Roscommen, but was ultimately beaten off. Many of the raiders were wounded.

The death roll at Belfast since July now totals 65.

ASQUITH BITTER

London, October 5.—Mr. Asquith, in a letter to the Times, declares "The most deplorable chapter of the past nine months has accentuated the tragic urgency of the Irish situation, in which the Executive is impotent and aggressive and its want of policy has reached a climax in an unexampled campaign of reprisals for which the Government is responsible."

Mr. Asquith says that he cannot contemplate Viscount Grey's counsel of final abandonment of the trust which history has imposed upon Great Britain.

He declares that nothing but the bestowal upon Ireland of the status of an autonomous Dominion in the fullest and widest sense can now satisfy Irish aspirations.

WANT MORE FREEDOM

Mr. Asquith points out in this connection that no one of the Dominions claims the right to a separate foreign policy but, on the other hand, all show an increasing, legitimate desire for fuller confidence and freer consultation in the whole domain of our external relations, particularly with regard to the making and revision of treaties. The Dominion of Ireland should be on a level footing with the rest.

He does not share the apprehensions with regard to naval and military forces, claiming that no Irish Government would be so insane as to mortgage its scanty margin of resources for a fruitless enterprise such as the creation of an Irish Navy, but he favors the granting to Ireland of powers to

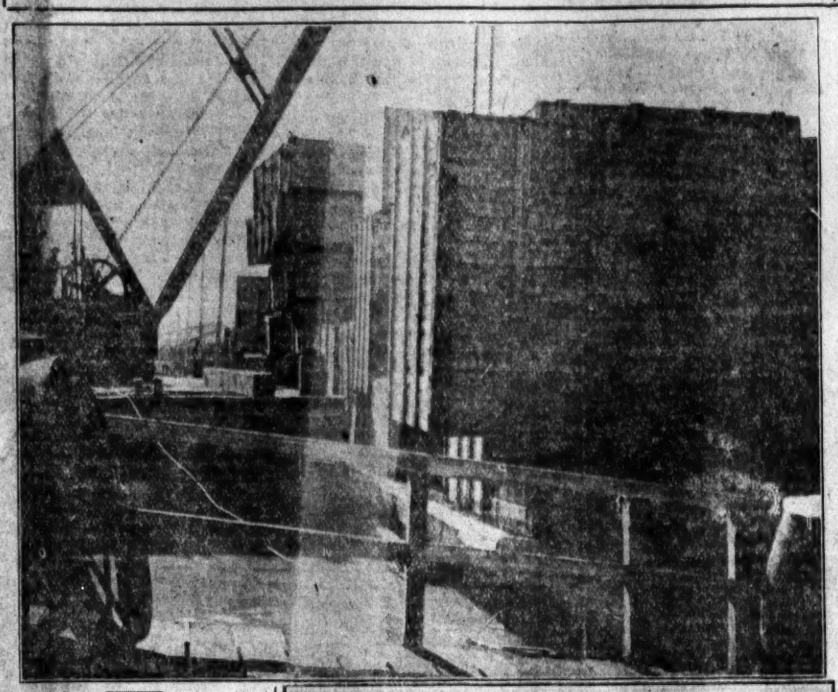
Airplanes For China Service Delivered

104 Cases Of Flying Machines, Some Damaged, Trucked Away To Great Matsheds Here

Were Held On Local Wharves For Months

At the top are huge boxes of airplanes being moved from the China Merchants' Lower Wharf, where they have been held up on account of the political troubles in the North and below is the Avro, the type of machine that the Peking Government is buying from foreign Manufacturers. The Avro was the standard training airplane of the British Government during the war.



MACHINES AT THREE JETTIES ARE REMOVED

Craft Deteriorating On Waterfront As Rivals Keep Up Fight

Removal of 104 cases of Government airplanes which were held on various local wharves began yesterday under the supervision of Mr. Jabin Hsu, the newly appointed local deputy of the Aeronautical department.

The cases have been arriving in port from London since last summer. But on account of the Chihli-Anfu conflict, the Peking Government did not take delivery of them as they arrived and left them in the open on the wharves. It was estimated that the total value of the cases amounted to $600,000, which was being depreciated on account of deterioration.

The cases will now be stored in two huge matsheds erected on the Railway Recreation Ground at the end of Markham Road, pending instruction from Peking to ship them up to Nanyuan, where the machines will be assembled for passenger and mail services.

TRUCKS ARE USED

Yesterday removal was carried out by the China Garage Truck Service. A number of trucks and a regiment of coolies were on the job all day to shift the huge cases to Markham Road. The removal will probably take a week.

Following the appointment of Mr. Hsu, a month ago, a detailed report of the condition of the cases was sent to the Aeronautical department and permissions for the releases of the machines, which were held on the wharves under bond, were secured; and after one month's maneuvering, the first lot on the China Merchants' Lower Wharf started moving yesterday. The cases will now be examined in order that the amount of damages may be ascertained before the lots are shipped to Peking.

The majority of the cases are on the China Merchants' Lower Wharf, while the remaining boxes are distributed on the Hongkew Wharves in Shanghai and in Pootung.

PLAN MAIL SERVICE

These cases constitute a portion of the delivery under one contract, by which the Government is purchasing over 200 Vimy and Arvo Machines from the Vickers people.

Over 2,000 more cases are coming by various ships. Al-

India Also Faces Famine; Chefoo Workers Take Action

A late letter tells of almost certain famine in India. Mr. Llewellyn Jones, writing to a member of THE CHINA PRESS staff, says that if something does not happen to make the monsoons favorable this winter will see India in the grip of a famine that will rival that in China in its intensity.

He says that the Government has 800,000 tons of grain stored up, but that it is afraid to export it in case the monsoon are unfavorable. He ventures further, and writes that if this grain were only allowed to find its way to the distressed regions of the world then the Indian situation would be greatly relieved.

MEETING IN CHEFOO

(China Press Correspondence)

Chefoo, Sept. 4.—The hall of the Chefoo Club Annex was utilised today for the purpose of organising a gathering to see what the local residents could do to alleviate some of the suffering in the famine areas. The Commissioner of Customs was in the chair. He has just returned from a visit to Peking where he has interviewed those who are mainly responsible for organising the famine relief fund.

The meeting felt strongly that something should be done, and that at once. It was stated that the Harbor Commission had a big fund in the Russo-Asiatic Bank, which it was willing to advance for several months free of all interest. By using this money for road construction, numbers of the famine refugees could be given employment, and Chefoo could get some excellent roads leading from it into the districts adjoining.

Possibly behind the minds of those present was the thought that this might be a chance of getting the road laid from here to Weihsien. There seems little possibility of the railway coming, but there is no apparent reason why an automobile road should not serve the same purpose.

COMMITTEE NAMED

The meeting was keenly enthusiastic and a resolution was passed by which the Harbor Commission was to join with the Silk Improvement Commission and become the Chefoo General Committee for collecting funds and carrying out the local famine relief. A second resolution was likewise passed that this General Committee, should act with the Peking Committee in the matter of funds and employment.

Yesterday the Chaplain of the Port made earnest appeals at the services for support for the Famine Relief. There were hearty responses, and the collections at the little Church amounted to $100.

Millions Are Made By Bootleggers, Say Officials

(Reuter's Service)

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 7 (by mail).—Profits running into millions of dollars will be made by rum runners operating between Canada and the Detroit district during 1920 according to estimates based upon figures by American and Canadian revenue officers.

In some quarters the estimates of profit from illicit liquor sales run as high as $100,000,000 for the present year.

Stories of fortunes made overnight and of scores of liquor rings, ranging in size and operations from groups of Canadian farm boys who buy and sell whisky by the quart, to "liquor brokers" whose sales are measured in terms of boat-loads, are being heard along both sides of the international boundary between Michigan and Ontario.

Prohibition agents are greatly hampered by lack of motor-boats. It is said to be practically impossible to catch whisky smugglers without fast craft.

Red Forces Demoralised By Hunger On Polish Front And In Crimea; Big Advance Expected

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 5.—A telegram from Riga announces that the Russian and Polish peace delegations have agreed to sign an armistice and preliminary peace on Friday, with a view to avoiding a winter campaign.

(Reuter's Service)

London, October 5.—General Wrangel's operations in South Russia have again come into prominence. The situation there is apparently developing very rapidly, and a big move to the line Ekaterinoslav-Rostoff appears to be imminent.

Simultaneously there are widespread reports that General Makhno, apparently the famous guerilla leader, who has already advanced to Losevaja, Slaviansk and Kramborskaja, in the Donetz Basin, has reached Krementchug on the Dnieper.

This movement prepares the way for a big advance by General Wrangel as the capture of Losevaja and Slaviansk cuts off the Bolsheviks' main communications from their big base at Kharkoff to the Rostoff area, while Ekaterinoslav is menaced from the rear.

MANY PRISONERS

General Wrangel announces that 11,000 prisoners have been counted in the Volnovakha area. He has reached a point, nineteen miles west of Mariupol, capturing 600 prisoners.

Meanwhile Trotsky's latest trumpet-call reveals the greatest anxiety with regard to the southern front and declares that it must be liquidated before winter.

London, October 4.—Although the sensational reports from Helsingfors with regard to the situation in Russia have not yet been confirmed, reports from the Finnish frontier indicate that great anxiety is prevailing in Soviet circles with regard to the situation.

REDS ARE HUNGRY

Both on the Polish front and in the Crimea the red forces, demoralised by hunger, are surrendering and deserting. Trotsky's efforts to recruit new forces in Siberia and the Eastern provinces have failed, while the laboring classes in Moscow and Petrograd, if they have not actually declared a genegal strike are threatening to do so and are pillaging the factories.

It must be remembered that authentic news from Russia is always scanty owing to terrorism and the strictest control of visitors, ever devised.

Scotland Is Swept By Wind And Rain Storm

(Reuter's Service)

London, October 5.—Parts of Scotland have been devastated by storms of wind and rain. The Rivers Dee and Don in Aberdeenshire have overflowed their banks, and the countryside for miles has been laid waste.

Hay, corn and poultry have been swirled from the lower reaches of the Dee into the sea, while the Garthdee bleach factory has been inundated, with damage estimated at £10,000.

Further up the river, Shetland ponies have been swept away and drowned. Five drifters and trawlers broke adrift in Aberdeen harbor. Three of them were recovered, and the remaining two were washed up some distance away.

SERIOUS DAMAGE

Serious damage is also reported from Perthshire, where a large area, has been deeply submerged, and numbers of small stock drowned.

London, October 5.—A patriotic offer has been made by an Edinburgh firm which insists on remaining anonymous to forego the interest, totalling £25,000, that would accrue in the next five years on its holding of £100,000 of war stock.

The firm foreshadows a possible similar extension for five years after that, and expresses the hope that others will be encouraged to do the same. Mr. Austen Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, has gratefully accepted the offer.

Late reports show that the Highlands have experienced the worst floods since the historic overflowing of the Moray in 1829. It is impossible as yet to gauge the extent of the disaster but the rivers Tay, Spey, Dee and Don are raging torrents. A farmer's household in the Balmoral area were isolated and were rescued with difficulty by a motor-boat.

In the same district a herd of Shetland ponies were swept away.

SHIPPING SUFFERS

On the lower reaches of the Dee sheep, hayricks, trees and poultry were swept into the sea.

The shipping at Aberdeen suffered severely, five drifters and two small steamers being wrecked or driven ashore. A big watch-dog, fastened to a kennel, was swept into the Dee. The dog was rescued.

Great numbers of wild rabbits are herded together on the tops of grain stooks. Wooden store-sheds floated down the Dee like numbers of Noah's Arks.

The bleach-fields and linen works were partially destroyed. The damage is estimated at £10,000.

Marriage

DENEGRI-CHIRIELEISON

Invitations have been issued by Mr. and Mrs. E. Denegri to the wedding of their daughter, Miss Francesca Denegri, to Major Chev. Ezro Chirieleison. The ceremony is to be performed at St. Joseph's Church at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon and a reception is to follow at 95 Jessfield Road.

CHEN-LAU

The marriage of Mr. Bert James Chen of Fearon, Daniel and Co. and Miss Lily Ting-fong Lau was solemnised at the Cantonese Union Church last night. The Rev. Chiu Jet conducted the ceremony.

The bride's dress was of rose pink satin trimmed with silver embroidery. She wore a tulle veil and carnation and rose bouquet. Miss Ling Nyoen-hsiang officiated at the organ while the sister of the bride acted as bridesmaid. The best man was Mr. William L. Yuen.

The ushers were Messrs. Walter H. Chen, brother of the bridegroom, C. Y. Chang, K. K. Chen and T. Y. Liang.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Oriental Hotel.

The happy couple will leave for Hangchow for their honeymoon this morning.

JAPS CLAIM INNOCENCE

Bandman Scores

(BY DOMINO)

Playgoers, I am going to tell "Nothing But The Truth." The war is over, and Mr. Maurice Bandman is again active. He is the pioneer of touring companies to the Far East. For some years past his players have been conspicuous by their absence. Perhaps they have been entertaining their German friends, and from various press reports their efforts have not been enjoyed by their audience. It is only natural that local playgoers were curious as to just what the new company is like, and what their plays are like.

The first of the plays presented has stood the test of both London and New York playgoers, and it has been acclaimed a real winner. They are excellent judges, and we have to take their decisions as final. As a matter of fact, we are not bad judges ourselves—and we say it as shouldn't—but we are quite ready to concur with our brethren of both New York and London as to their opinion of "Nothing But The Truth." It is a sure winner, and there is no reason why it should not pay a big dividency to the playgoer in laughter, and to the company in dollars.

PERSONNEL OF COMPANY

But the special point of interest to us all is the personnel of the company. It is already agreed that the plays must be good. How are they going to be carried over the footlights? Bandman has brought good players; he has brought indifferent players; and he has brought, at times, players that have been neither good nor even indifferent. What is the verdict of the present crowd?

Gather round. "Nothing But The Truth" gave quite a lot of the company opportunities to show just what they were made of. So let it be said right away that we have a first class company at the Lyceum Theater, and that a tip-top house greeted them with the greatest enthusiasm. Shanghai likes old friends. The name Bandman stands for an old friend. We all wanted to see the latest Bandman Company. We all wanted them to be good. They were good. They are good. Every player, as far as last night's show was able to demonstrate is capable. Therefore everyone was happy. We can look forward to a fine season. Good!

WELL BALANCED CAST

Now for "Nothing But The Truth" again. With a cast of eleven players, and everyone filling in a complete study, it is difficult to pick out any one person to twinkle. As a matter of fact the company have no individual stellar attraction; instated they have brought a constellation; and it is not far from a first class one. So let us take them in order of their appearance.

Clive Woods had few opportunities, but he is good. We are to see him imparts in which he will prove his worth. Carl Lawson, we have seen before in the Orient. Since he was here last, he has grown somewhat in width, if not in length. He has also grown in talent, and a season in London has done a good deal to give him confidence to tackle a part like 'E. M. Ralston,' and to score heavily. I liked his character study immensely, even if I did not altogether like his make-up.

David Keir is an out-and-out actor. I shall not be surprised to see him taking leads—character leads—and making quite as big a success in them as did Compton Coutts did. That is saying a great deal. Compton Coutts was first class.

Forbes Russell, who took the part of 'Dick Donelly,' strikes one as being a really good juvenile lead. He has a nice voice, and a good stage presence. Leonard Stephens has always been a local favorite. No matter what part he undertakes he gives a sincere interpretation. He is not keen on heavy roles. He is never anxious to put over the 'Third Degree;' he is happiest when playing light comedy parts. As a 'G. P. Huntley' he is absolutely faithful. Last night, as 'Bob Bennett' he was particularly happy. His quaint little grin, and his whimsical mannerism, immediately made him renew his popularity.

The ladies had only a secondary part in "Nothing But The Truth." Whether this was intentional on the part of the author or not is not certain. Anyhow they play but a small part in the various characterisations. But they are sufficiently prominent to let us see that they are quite good enough to tackle any thing in the way of portrayals that come in their way. 'Mrs. Ralston' found a fine exponent in Miss Muriel Johnston. 'Ethel,' 'Gwen' and 'Sabel,' all were fortunate in having Miss Pratt, Miss Lewis and Miss Gerard to depict them. Miss Beryl Barraclough made a delightful study of 'Mabel.' That little bit of declamatory work in which she proclaimed to the world that she was a very nice little girl, until she wasn't, showed she is just as fine an actress as we acclaimed her five years ago. 'Wiggs' was nicely filled in by Leon Yaymen.

Tonight: The Same Show. And, to tell you "Nothing But The Truth" it is an very excellent entertainment, and a first class play.

No Hurry To Name Envoy, Says Canada

(Reuter's Service)

London, October 6.—Contrary to the Associated Press message from New York of September 30, the Ottawa correspondent of the Morning Post says that it is officially denied that the delay in the appointment of a Minister to represent Canada at Washington is due to objections, raised by Sir Auckland Geddes, the British Ambassador at Washington.

The delay is attributed to absence of urgency owing to the lull, which is likely until the new President of the United States has been elected.

It is understood that Sir Robert Borden will probably accept the position.

Tokio, Oct. 6.—The Government is planning to reconstitute the Department of Agriculture and Commerce into a Department of Agriculture and Forestry and a Department of Commerce and Industry, owing to the fact that the important problems connected with the silk industry, food supply, forestry, mining and labor are beyond the scope of a single department.

KATO GIVES VIEWS

Tokio, October 7.—The Jiji publishes an interview with Viscount Kato, ex-Foreign Minister, in which he criticises the Government's reported proposal of a joint commission to investigate the California problem. He anticipates the continuance of this trouble after the American elections, and declares that the only solution is for solid public opinion to appeal to America in the name of justice and humanity.

Mr. Yomiuri Uchida, the Labor delegate to the Genoa Conference, has returned, and says that whereas formerly the leaders of the anti-Japanese movement were Laborites, they are now politicians. He urges that this decided change requires the greatest attention on the part of Japan.

Emigration To U.S. Is Checked By War

Capital Issues Report On Population Gain In Century

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, Sept. 4 (by mail).—Thirty-four million immigrants have entered the United States in the past century.

In the same time the population of the country has increased 97,000,000.

Until the world war the effect of immigration on the population increase was very marked, amounting to more than 50 percent.

WAR BIG FACTOR

In the decade ending in 1910 it exceeded 40 percent.

In the ten years ending with the present year, and Immigration Bureau officials are of the opinion that, had the war not intervened, the percentage for this decade would have been greater than that of the last.

Of the 34,000,000 immigrants entering the country in the last 100 years, 8,205,675, or nearly one-fourth of them, came from England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales. Germany furnished the second largest number (5,495,539), and Italy the third largest (4,100,740). Austria-Hungary was next behind Italy with 4,068,448, while Russia was fifth with 3,311,406.

FEW FROM BELGIUM

Belgium and Rumania have sent the smallest number of any of the European countries, the total for the former being 76,587, and for the latter 76,222.

Chinese immigrants have numbered 288,398, beginning in 1853 with 42, and virtually ending in 1883 with 8,031. The peak was in 1882, when 39,579 Chinese arrived. Chinese exclusion laws became effective about that time.

Immigration from Japan was first taken note of in 1892, and reached its peak of 30,226 in 1907. In 1919, 10,064 Japanese entered the United States, while the total for the 27 years was 229,030.

CREATOR OF 'RIP' AS AN ADVERTISER

Irving's Clever Method Of Exploiting His 'Knickerbocker's History Of New York'

It may be said that Washington Irving was the father of modern successful advertising. He gave to the world the first exemplification of the art in the exploitation of his "Diedrich Knickerbocker's History of New York."

The historian says that Dr. Samuel L. Mitchell had published what he called a "Picture of New York," which seemed so fair a mark for ridicule that Irving and his brother, Peter, determined to satirise it, and had their book well under way when Peter Irving was called by business to Europe and the completion of the task fell on Washington.

"As Philadelphia was then the center of the book trade and of letters, the manuscript was sent to a Philadelphia publisher, and when all was ready announcements of a novel sort appeared in the newspapers. First came the statement that a 'small elderly gentleman, dressed in an old black coat and cocked hat, by the name of Knickerbocker,' had disappeared from his lodgings in New York City. Next, from week to week, came other notices, setting forth that an elderly gentleman answering the description had been seen in a north-bound Albany stage; that he owed his landlady for room rent and board; that he had left behind a curious sort of written book, and that unless he returned and paid his score the manuscript would be sold to satisfy the debt.

"The identity of the fictitious author having been thus established 'A History of New York, by Diedrich Knickerbocker,' was given to the world in 1809.

"Of all the books up to that time written by Americans this was the most original. The reality which Franklin gave to the 'clean old man,' Poor Richard, was surpassed in the semblance of actual existence with which Irving invested the little old gentleman in black coat and knee breeches. He became the type of a great class. What the Puritan is to New England, what the Cavalier is to Virginia and the Quaker, to Pennsylvania, Father Knickerbocker has ever since been to New York. Many a reader with Dutch blood in his veins failed to see the humor of the book. One, indeed, a scholar of no mean repute, described it as a 'coarse caricature,' but the verdict of our countrymen has pronounced it a masterpiece of humor."

MEXICAN ENVOY TO QUIT WASHINGTON AS MISSION FAILS

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, Oct. 5.—Senor Fernando Calderon, the Mexican High Commissioner to Washington, has resigned, having failed to achieve the purpose of his mission, which was to settle all differences between the United States and Mexico.

He will return to Mexico with the entire staff of the embassy.

Senor Calderon claimed that he had plenary powers to settle all claims against Mexico by Americans, but the State Department said it had not been notified of such powers, and added that Mexico must demonstrate her willingness and ability to fulfill her obligations before the United States would recognise the present Mexican Government.

Four Acquitted In Egyptian Plot

(Reuter's Service)

London, October 5.—One of has ended at Cairo, wherein Abdel Rahman, a former Provincial Governor, Bey Fahmy, formerly a servant of the ex-Khedive, and 27 others, comprising students, lawyers and members of the Moslem University of El Azhar, were accused of conspiracy as members of a criminal association called "The Vengeance Society," the objects of which were to preach sedition, and to assassinate the Sultan of Egypt, his Ministers and other Egyptians of whom the society lisapproved.

It is alleged that the society organised the recent attacks on British soldiers, and also bomb attacks on Ministers. It appears that the ramifications of the society extended to all parts of Egypt, and it is stated they had correspondents almost all over the world. It is noteworthy that some of the accused exhorted the society to adopt Sinn Fein tactics.

Four of the accused were acquitted and the remainder, including Abdul Rahman, found guilty. The sentences will be promulgated later.

CLEVELAND TEAM WINS FIRST GAME OF SERIES FROM BROOKLYN

Coveleski Tops Marquard In Pitching Duel; Game To Indians By 3-1 Score

Speaker, Back In Cleveland Line-Up, Is Fielding Star—O'Neill Bats Out Two Doubles—Crowd Of 23,000 Sees Robins Go Down To Defeat

By Dudley Burrows

(Amplified from U. S. Naval Radio Despatch)

The Cleveland Indians, under the redoubtable leadership of Manager Tris Speaker, won the first game of the world's championship from the Brooklyn Robins on the latter's field last Tuesday afternoon, according to wireless advices received yesterday by the U. S. Naval radio station at Shanghai.

The score was 3 to 1.

Stanley Coveleski, mighty brother of the mighty slabster who formerly twirled such wonderful ball for the Detroit Tigers, was on the mound for Cleveland and turned in a remarkable game, letting the heavy hitting Robins down with a few measly hits.

"Rube" Marquard, the sensational left-hander who hung up a record of nineteen straight victories while a member of the New York Giants several years ago, did the pitching honors for Brooklyn.

Speaker, back in the Cleveland line-up for the first time since the death of his star short-stop, Ray Chapman, some two months ago, played one of the most remarkable games of his remarkable career in professional baseball.

"Tris" roamed the Indian outfield like an avenging spirit, cutting off no less than seven Brooklyn wallops which would undoubtedly have gone for extra-base safeties had he not been blocking the air channels with his trusty hands.

O'NEILL BATS HEAVILY

"Sammy" O'Neill, mainstay catcher for the Indians, starred at the bat, crashing out two husky doubles when hits meant runs. The Cleveland team as a whole gave Coveleskie splendid support, led by Manager-Captain Speaker and "Smoky Joe" Wood (the former pitcher) who played in right.

The crowd did not come up to expectations, only 23,394 persons making their way through the turnstiles to see the contest. It is believed that cold weather, coupled with the prospect of standing in line for hours, waiting for the gates to open, kept many persons away.

IDEAL PLAYING DAY

Despite the snap in the air the day was ideal for baseball, the fitful breezes keeping the players "on their toes" every minute of the playing period. It was a bit uncomfortable for the spectators, especially those who had failed to provide themselves with overcoats or wraps.

The teams played again yesterday and are finishing their first series at Ebbets Field today. Tonight they entrain for Cleveland, where they will open a series of three games tomorrow afternoon.

BATTING ORDER CHANGES

There were some slight changes in the line-ups of both teams as published in these columns a few days ago. Evans was in left for Cleveland instead of Graney, who does not fare any too well against south-paw pitching; Speaker took Jamieson's place in center; and Wood played right in place of Elmer Smith. Sewell, a recruit, held down Chapman's former position in the short field.

For Brooklyn the only change was Kruger going in behind the bat instead of Miller. The complete batting orders of the two teams was as follows:

INDIANS	ROBINS
Evans lf	Olsen ss
Wambsganss ss	Johnston 3b
Speaker cf	Griffith rf
Wood rf	Wheat lf
Gardner 3b	Myers cf
Johnston 1b	Konetchy 1b
Sewell ss	Kilduff 2b
O'Neill c	Kruger c
Coveleskie p	Marquard p

Cleveland scored all of her runs early, two in the second inning and one in the fourth. Brooklyn could do nothing against the magnificent twirling of Coveleskie until the seventh, when she managed to squeeze her solitary tally across the pan.

The score by innings looks as follows on paper:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	Total
Cleveland	0	2	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	—3
Brooklyn	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	0	0	—1

CARPENTIER TO BOX LEVINSKY NEXT TUESDAY

Frenchman Scheduled To Make First Ring Appearance In U. S. Against Hebrew

Next Tuesday evening, "somewhere in New York," America is scheduled to take its first peep at Georges Carpentier, the famous French light-heavyweight boxer, in action with the gloves.

The conqueror of Bombardier Wells, Joe Beckett and other well-known European pugilists is booked to tangle with Battling Levinsky, Dan Morgan's courageous Hebrew war-horse, in a fifteen-round bout.

It was originally planned to stage the bout at Ebbets Field, the ball ground operated by the Brooklyn National League baseball club; but, following the winning of the National League pennant by the aforesaid club, requiring the use of the field for the world series, other arrangements have undoubtedly been made.

A CRITICAL TEST

There is little doubt that an enormous crowd of boxing fans will desire to see Carpentier on the occasion of his first professional appearance in this country. Upon the manner in which he acquits himself against Levinsky will depend public opinion regarding his chances against Dempsey, whom he is to meet within the next 60 days, probably in Madison Square Garden.

The Frenchman will find Levinsky no "easy mark." The clever Hebrew has been fighting for many years and is on to all of the tricks of the game. If Carpentier can dispose of him in anything like jig-time he will deserve the Dempsey match.

On the other hand, if Levinsky happens to put over a "haymaker" on his adversary, Carpentier may just as well "pack all his troubles in his old kit-bag and sail, sail, sail." If he can't get over the Levinsky hurdle it would be criminal to pit him against "Our Jack."

'POP' GEERS HAS BEEN DRIVER FOR ALMOST 43 YEARS

It will soon be forty-three years since "Pop" Geers drove his first race on a Grand Circuit track at old Fleetwood Park in New York, where he won a memorable six-heat race for three-year-olds with Alice West in 2:26.

For a man to be driving with such success as he this season, within six months of his 70th birthday, is unexampled in the annals of the harness game.

1920 FOOTBALL SEASON BEGINS TOMORROW P.M.

St. Xavier And Baptist College Meet On Latter's Grounds; "Recs" Making Ready

The 1920 football season in Shanghai will be inaugurated tomorrow afternoon, when the representatives of St. Xavier's School will tangle with the Baptist College eleven on the latter's grounds, starting at 2:45 o'clock.

St. Xavier's was to have played last Saturday afternoon, but the game was abandoned as their prospective opponents announced themselves unprepared for a representative struggle.

The following members of the St. Xavier squad are requested to meet at the School at 2:00 o'clock sharp tomorrow, to proceed to the playing field:

D. Sequeira, P. Oliveires (captain), H. Favacho, F. Wittack, H. Johnson, W. Favacho, A. Gutierrez, F. Gutierrez, J. Silva, V. Elliott and J. Lima. Reserves: Macdonald and Tordy.

"REC" FOOTBALL

On Monday evening next, beginning at 6 o'clock, members of the Shanghai Recreation Club who are interested in football will assemble at the club's Pavilion to discuss plans for the season.

John L. Wade, Honorary Secretary of the "Recs," announces that a full attendance at this meeting is desired, in order that the football program for Fall and Winter may be discussed in all of its phases.

Shanghai Cricket Team For Hongkong Interport Match Nearly Completed

Nine Members Chosen; Others May Come From "The Rest," Who Play "Interporters" At S.C.C. Grounds Tomorrow; Several Good Men Can't Go

By "Boundary"

Nine of the Shanghai Interport cricket team which will journey to Hongkong the second week in November, there to play a picked Eleven of Crown Colony cricketers for the coastwise championship of China, have been selected.

Their names have been announced by Secretary Bliss, of the Shanghai Cricket Club, as follows: H. W. Allison, G. Brock, W. C. G. Clifford, D. W. Leach, H. E. Muriel, H. B. Ollerdessen, Rev. C. E. Spencer, F. L. Wainwright and T. W. R. Wilson.

It is the hope of the Selection Committee to complete the pertime, in order that the going members may begin their training and other preparations in ample time to insure a full measure of efficiency in the Interport match.

With this end in view a match will be played on Saturday afternoon at the S. C. C. grounds, beginning at 1:15 o'clock, between "An Interport XI" and "Rest of Shanghai," which should give a pretty good line on the capabilities of other candidates for the Hongkong trip.

A SPORTING TEST

Seven of the nine cricketers already selected for the sortie against the Colony batsmen and bowlers will be in the "Interport" line-up, only Messrs. Allison and Spencer being absent. The other four members of tomorrow's eleven will be Messrs. D. W. Duthoit, J. R. Hinton, C. E. M. Thomson and J. R. Weeks.

Against this strong combination "The Rest" will have another formidable "short dozen," composed of the following first-rate cricketers: G. M. Billings (captain), E. G. Barnes, P. H. Cobb, W. J. Hawkings, A. W. Hayward, H. Middleton, Dr. H. H. Morris, W. G. R. Murphy, Dr. W. E. O'Hara, J. M. Pearson and A. E. Piercey, with J. R. Harder in reserve.

HEROES OF HANKOW

Of these players Messrs. Cobb, Piercey and Murphy, are just home from Hankow, where they made enviable records in the games against the team representing that city and an eleven from the ships of H.B.M. Navy stationed at that point, played last week.

It must be understood that there are cricket players in Shanghai who would almost certainly have been chosen long since for the Interport eleven had it been possible for them to absent themselves from this Settlement long enough to make the round trip.

The Selection Committee seems to have made excellent choices of the available material, as far as they have gone; and no doubt they can be depended upon to keep up the good work when it comes to the naming of the two other "regulars" and the reserves who are to go South next month.

At all events, it looks as though a splendid match is in prospect for tomorrow afternoon and a large gathering will undoubtedly be on hand to see how the "Interporters" fare against "The Rest."

Plan "Foreign League" For Basketball Season

Tonight beginning at 8:15 o'clock the disciples of basketball, under the leadership of C. D. Glanque, president of the Basketball League, will foregather at the Chinese Y. M. C. A. to discuss the formation of playing leagues for the new season.

Several of the hongs have already expressed the intention of placing teams in the "Foreigners' League," plans for which will be discussed at tonight's meeting. It is hoped to have eight or ten teams in the League.

HOME OFFICE IS IN DOUBT ABOUT MAYOR'S FOOD

create an adequate defensive military force.

Mr. Asquith declares that the only alternative is seriously to undertake the task of reconquering Ireland and holding her by force, "a task which would never be sanctioned by the conscience of the British people." He concludes.

"I am not alarmed by the specter of the Irish Republic. Men don't in the long run fight for phrases but for realities."

London, October 5.—The public belief that Lord Mayor McSweeney must be getting food is not shared by the Home Office, which explicitly states that he is refusing all food and that there is no reason to suspect that he is receiving food from relatives. He is taking hot water and medicine which are arresting certain deteriorating processes.

The mystery of the hunger-strikers at Cook, who fasted for two days longer than the Lord Mayor, is also unsolved and is confounding the doctors.

NEW OUTRAGE

London, October 5.—Typical outrage is reported from Ireland today, this case being a hold-up by armed men of a Dublin bank. Covering the stag with revolvers, the marauders made them hold up their hands while one cut the telephone wires and another filled his pockets with money. They then decamped with £800, after warning the staff and customers who were in the bank not to leave the building for an hour.

Armed Sinn Feiners last night carried out one of their most successful coups. They made a sudden onslaught on police barracks near Skibbereen, and took the garrison of 15 policemen completely by surprise. Having compelled the police to surrender without shooting, the raiders set fire to and burned down the barracks, after removing the machine-guns which they found there, and a considerable quantity of ammunition.

ARMED MEN IN ATTACK

London, October 6.—With regard to the capture of the barracks near Skibbereen, reported yesterday, it is officially announced that it was the big barracks at Schull, County Cork, which were attacked on the evening of October 4 by a large body of armed men.

A vigorous fire was maintained by both sides until midnight when the defenders were overpowered and surrendered. The raiders numbered two hundred. Many of the attacking party arrived in motorcars and in small parties over the mountain roads, all reaching the rendezvous about dark.

The barracks are double-storied and are situated on a high hill, overlooking Schull harbor. The police kept the attackers at bay for four hours but were ultimately overpowered by overwhelming numbers.

MAILS SEIZED

The military seized practically all the incoming mails at Dublin today and searched them. They were returned later.

Heavy outbreaks of firing occurred at Cork last night between Sinn Feiners and the military curfew patrols.

Morgan Will Speak Before Woman's Club

Mr. Evan Morgan will speak upon Ancient Sacrificial Bronzes to the Literary Department of the American Woman's Club, Friday, Oct. 8 at 4:30 p.m. Much difficulty has been encountered finding a speaker qualified to treat the subject of bronzes, and the lecture is anticipated with interest.

A report will be made of the books purchased for the reference library; and the program for the ensuing year will be given. The meeting is an open one for all members of the American Woman's Club, and newly arrived American women.

HOW MUCH IS YOUR BABY WORTH?

You will surely reply, "He is worth to me, more than all the money in the world!" Such being the case you will be glad to know of a medicine which will help your baby's teething, enable him to sleep soundly, digest well and develop into a sturdy, healthy child. The name of this already well-known Canadian children's remedy is Baby's Own Tablets. Here is one endorsement out of many received. It comes from an American mother, Mrs. W. M. Stoddart, of East Brookfield, Vt. U.S.A., who writes:—"I have never found anything as good as Baby's Own Tablets for regulating the bowels of little children. My baby was sick and restless while cutting his teeth but the Tablets quickly made him all right."

Baby's Own Tablets are equally helpful and harmless to the youngest infant as to the child of 6 years old or more. They are confidently recommended as a remedy for simple fever, indigestion, constipation, colic, diarrhoea, croup, eczema, also to expel worms. From chemists, or post free, 60 cents the vial, from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 96 Szechuen Road, Shanghai.

MASKEE!

Maskee!.

And today there shall be no Maskee.

Everything matters.

At our very doors the arch fiend, Starvation stalks, threatening the destruction of millions of mankind. Man-Kind. If only the two words were synonymous!

Today "Wolf-Hunger" is howling around, and silencing in death the appeal of a mother, and father, and the pathetic whimper of a child. "Wolf-Hunger" fears only one foe. When "Sympathy" approaches with her mighty force of "Heart Strings," then "Wolf-Hunger" makes for his lair amidst the wilds of "Selfishness."

Today there is no time to ask the why, and the wherefore, of the present situation. It is a time of doing. Today it is GIVE and SAVE or it is DENY and DESTROY.

"Let the Chinese look after themselves." It is like saying anew "Let the dead bury their dead." But if it means anything, it means "Let those who are dead to sympathy look after their like."

Mothers, with their sterile breasts, cannot give to the children they have borne. It but needs a little of the milk of human kindness to make those sterile breasts again flow with a baby's food.

Fathers gather straw for their children to eat, and then fly to a swift refuge in death, rather than witness their offsprings' unwitting reproach.

Mother Earth, Mother Earth,
Sometimes you chastise those you love,
That they may nobler grow.
Sometimes you close the womb and give no issue,
That thy daughter Sympathy may flow
Into the hearts of men.
Today in this great land are millions
Who call upon thee, Mother Earth,
And ask for living milk from out thy breast.
Awake, let plenteous crops dispel the death.
Mother Earth, Mother Earth,
Each lesser mother calls to thee
To feed her young.
Some there are, mother and father too,
Who cannot in their anguish witness their children starve,
And so dread death they woo.
The Christ, who did five thousand feed
With fishes two and loaves that numbered five,
Asked "Lovest thou me?
Then feed my lambs,"—feed and keep alive.
Father of all, whose love created Mother Earth,
Open the hearts and ears of all thy sons.
He that hath ears, let him hear the cry of the starving,
That he may open his heart to Joyousness
By giving, and making food more sweet by halving.
Mother Earth, Mother Earth,
Awake, Yet plenteousness dispel thy dearth.

Origin Of Political Words

There are various peculiarly political words and phrases that have sprung up in the course of American history and have in many cases even found their way into the dictionaries. There is the "gerrymander," for example, the name for the practice which the Germans refer to as "electoral geometry." Our picturesque word is a combination of Gerry and salamander. In 1811, during the incumbency of El-bridge Gerry as Governor of Massachusetts, the Democrats redistricted the State so as to secure the following senatorial election to their party, and the fancied resemblance of the map of one of the districts to a salamander gave rise to the name. Gerry's name was used because it was supposed he was back of the practice, but in after years it was learned that he had opposed it.

The word "boom," as applied to politics, was first used by Editor J. B. McCullagh in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, July 18, 1878, when he wrote, "the Republicans of every other State are of the same way of thinking. The fact is, the Grant movement is booming." In explaining the expression afterward to the editors of the Century Dictionary, Mr. McCullagh said in part, "I used to hear the pilots say of the river when rising rapidly and overflowing its banks that it was booming. The idea I wished to convey was that the Grant movement was rising, swelling, etc. The word was generally adopted. . . . I used it as a noun after a while, and spoke of the Grant boom."

The word "heeler" may be traced back to an old low-German word meaning "heel-treader," or a lackey who follows at the heels of his master. Bryce says, "what the client was to his patron in Rome, what the vassal was to his lord in the Middle Ages, that the heelers are to their boss in the great transatlantic States. They render a personal feudal service, which their suzerain repays with the gift of a livelihood."

Once while John Sherman was a Senator he went back to his old home at Mansfield, Ohio, to look after his farm near that city, he having learned that things were getting a bit run down—the fences broken in places and the buildings out of repair. The citizens of Mansfield, with whom the Senator was very popular, at once got up a big demonstration for him and demanded a speech, supposing as a matter of course that he was making quiet preparations for the next campaign. In his speech he endeavored to convince them that his visit had no political significance, but that he had just come home to look after his fences and other matters around his farm. Newspaper jokesmiths all over the country grabbed his remark and quoted it with joyous sarcasm; and since then, "looking after his fences" has meant that a candidate is circulating among the boys, shaking hands, making promises and otherwise keeping his machine in smooth running order.

Cruelty

BY ANGELA MORGAN

Why did you kill the bird?
It had so sweet a word,
It only asked to sing
And spread its lovely wing.
Look how the tender throat
That held so rare a note
Has suddenly grown still.
Why, why did you kill?

Why did you scold today
The little child at play?
It had no harm for you . . .
Its bubbling heart was true.
Why did you bring to grief
A happiness too brief?
Joy is the fairest thing
That life or death may bring.

Why did you hurt the friend
Who loved you to the end?
Why did you send the dart
Which pierced that loyal heart?
Words have so keen a sting,
Such ruthless suffering.
Love has the largest worth
Of any gift on earth.

O lovers, false or true . . .
O foolish hearts and blind,
One thing life asks of you . . .
Be kind, be kind!

Brotherhood Bank

Locomotive Engineers' Enterprise That Stars With Challenge To 'Money Trust'

BY WILLIAM H. CRAWFORD

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers has organised a bank to be known as the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers' Co-operative National Bank of Cleveland. The capital stock is $1,000,000, divided into 10,000 shares of $100 each. It begins business with a paid-up surplus of 10 percent, thus making each share of stock cost $110 and giving the bank a working capital of $1,100,000. The stockholders are limited to the members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and to the local divisions of that order. The Board of Directors, selected from members of the brotherhood, is to be controlled by its grand officers. The dividends on the capital stock are limited to 10 percent, and should there be any surplus profit it is to go into the bank's surplus. The bank will have commercial, savings and trust departments. It will be a commercial bank in form, but co-operative in its activity. The motto of its officers and every employe of the bank will be service. Its motive will be to build up the brotherhood, to aid its members in every possible way and to serve as a model to all other organisations throughout the country who are contemplating entering this field.

In its trust department it will invest individual funds of the members in high-grade securities; it will invest insurance funds paid on the death of a member for its beneficiaries. It will draw wills, and on the death of a member the funds of dependent persons will be administered at a slight cost. There is to be an information division, where members of the organisation can secure expert advice concerning legal or business matters, or the value of any security which they contemplate purchasing. Such are the object and intentions of the brotherhood bank, as stated by Warren S. Stone, Grand Chief Engineer of the order. The offices of the bank are to be in Cleveland, Ohio, but its organisers expect that practically all of the 85,000 members of the brotherhood will do their banking with it by mail, forwarding their salary checks for deposit.

The brotherhood has long contemplated the formation of a bank. In 1915 the grand officers, in convention assembled, authorised its formation and instructed the Advisory Board to take the necessary action when in its judgment the time was opportune. The Advisory Board decided that it was advisable, owing to the unsettled condition brought about by the war, to postpone its formation. The matter was not lost sight of, however, and in October, 1919, Warren S. Stone, Grand Chief Engineer, and William B. Prenter, First Chief Engineer, were appointed a committee to determine the advisability of organising the bank now. They reported to the Advisory Council on June 13, 1920, that the present time was propitious, and organisation was effected. A charter has been granted by the Controller of the Currency, subscription books have been opened, nearly all of the stock has been subscribed and a bank building has been secured in Cleveland in close juxtaposition to the B. L. E. building, over which the grand officers of the brotherhood preside.

Its organisers are particular to assert that their bank is the antithesis of a capitalistic bank; that it differs from the old-style bank in that the latter is organised for gain; that banks of this kind are members of the "money trust"; that their funds are utilised for speculative purposes and are at the beck and call of Wall Street rather than being kept at home for their depositors, and that these banks profit by an artificially made stringency of the money market at the expense of the local merchants, manufacturers and other citizens. On the other hand, it is emphasised that the brotherhood bank is not organised for profit, but for service; that it will invest its funds for the benefit of the members of the brotherhood—in making loans on negotiable paper—on first mortgages (this is a national bank; therefore, probably Mr. Stone is mistaken about loaning money on realty mortgaged). Should these means not put to use all of their funds the remainder is to be invested in Government bonds. No money is to be placed on call loans for Wall Street manipulation; even the mention of the financial interests is deprecated by the directing officers of the brotherhood.

Are Mr. Stone's criticisms of the country just, and is it probable that a bank organised on a co-operative basis and limiting its business to an organisation 85,000 strong, but scattered over the United States and Canada—a bank that is professedly antagonistic to the money interests of the country—likely to succeed?

The charge against the country banks of a too close connection with the money trust is probably very much like the announcement of Mark Twain's death—"greatly exaggerated." Money is a commodity, and, like every other commodity, is governed rightly by the law of supply and demand, provided these laws are not artificially manipulated. Money will go without question to the point where it will bring the most returns; therefore, before the organisation of the Federal Reserve Bank, it was a custom of most of the country banks (country banks in financial parlance mean the banks outside the money centers, like New York and Chicago) to carry their reserve and surplus funds in the large city banks for the purposes of exchange and as a means of securing interest on their reserves. This was allowed by our former banking laws. The money was frequently used for call loans speculation. Furthermore, the carrying of their reserves in the city banks paves the way for their sending all of their surplus funds to be utilised in profitable loans of this character whenever the market price for money indicated that it was advisable.

On June 21, 1917, however, an amendment to the Federal Reserve act was passed, requiring every bank, banking association or trust company belonging to the Federal Reserve system to maintain its entire legal reserve in the form of a deposit at the Federal Reserve Bank of its district; therefore, the commercial banks since 1917 have ceased tying up their legal reserve money by depositing it in the banks of the money centers. The officials of the Federal Reserve Bank, which is the bankers' bank and rediscounts the paper held by the other banks, have in their power the right to regulate the kind of paper that they will rediscount. They can prevent the use of the funds for speculative purposes; consequently, not nearly so large a share of the money of the country banks now finds its way to Wall Street.

The amount of reserve required by the Federal Reserve Bank act depends upon the bank's location. In the central reserve cities—New York, Chicago and St. Louis—the banks are required to maintain as a reserve deposit 13 percent of their net demand deposits; in the reserve city banks, which include about fifty cities, 10 percent of their net demand deposits are required, and in the country banks 7 percent. In addition to this, 3 percent on time deposits is demanded from all banks; this represents a large share of the surplus funds of the average bank, which it had formerly utilised in the monetary centers.

On the other hand, Mr. Stone has organised a national bank. As a national bank, he will be required to maintain his 10 percent deposits with the Federal Reserve. As it is within the power of the Federal Reserve to direct the flow of money to whatever place it is most needed, it will be impossible for him to prevent 10 percent of his funds from going to hated Wall Street.

The system of exchange in which the brotherhood bank must take part will send a large share of its funds to New York, the money center. It is estimated that 83 percent of the business of the United States is done by checks. On the basis of the average bank balance and the average turnover per account more than $100,000,000 of member banks may pass through the financial centers; therefore, it will be impossible for the brotherhood bank to entirely isolate itself from the so-called money trust. With this necessary interlocking of funds, it would be impossible in times of financial stress for them to disassociate themselves from the financial interests. Panics are no respecter of persons or banks. Money loaned to a brotherhood man must be repaid the same as by any other ordinary individual, and it will be as difficult for money to be secured at such times on brotherhood notes (or as Mr. Stone says, first mortgages) by this bank as any other. Indeed, it is highly probable that it would have more difficulty in securing necessary money to tide over a crisis, because of their announced antagonism to the money interests, who usually step into the breach on such occasions.

Banks whose depositors are limited to a certain class of men engaged in the same calling would be more subject to a possible need of monetary assistance than would an ordinary bank. Commercial banks have all classes of depositors, engaged in all kinds of business and making loans to all classes of citizens. If business is shut down in one line, it will be running in another; consequently, it is improbable that all their depositors would demand their funds at the same time. On the other hand, a bank whose depositors and debtors are made up solely of locomotive engineers might easily have demands made upon it for money due to a strike or lockout which it would be unable to meet. Such a condition would affect its entire business clientele. Its depositors would demand their savings for current expenditures, and the conversion of the paper held by the bank into liquid funds would be difficult, because their debtors are also affected by the strike or lockout.

The brotherhood bank will begin business however, with quite a large amount of deposits. When a country-wide strike was threatened in 1916 Mr. Stone stated that the brotherhood had several million dollars in reserve. This money will probably be transferred to the brotherhood bank and could be used in an emergency to tide over a financial crisis, but it will be necessary for it as a matter of safety to carry a much larger share of its funds uninvested than it is for an ordinary bank.

The success of the bank will depend very largely on the wisdom of its Directors. Banking is a business that must be learned, and experience may be a dear teacher. There are certain laws of economics and finance that are inexorable. Any violation of them invites destruction. Mr. Stone may be an intuitive banker who will unerringly follow these economic laws correctly.

The organisation of the bank should have one very advantageous effect: the bank proposes to pay 10 percent dividends. In order to pay dividends it must loan its money on security; security represents the safety of property. As a custodian of other people's property, the bank Directors will probably recognise that property rights must be conserved in order to furnish security, and they will learn to appreciate the position occupied by Directors of railroads and other industrial organisations, whose duty it is to protect the interests of the stockholders. It is possible that he may reverse his famous epigram: "Wages are always the first lien, and the receives' cash is as good as any."

America has had very little experience in class banks, and that limited experience has not been very satisfactory. The Non-Partisan League organised a bank some time ago, which ran into difficulties. So far as I know this is the only class bank that has been attempted in America. However, the experience of this bank has not dampened the ardor of the supporters of the co-operative bank idea. The All-America Farmer-Labor Co-operative Congress held in Chicago in 1920 agreed that banking and credit agencies were the great need of the co-operative movement. It stated that the industrial classes have no credit at all, and that the producing classes are little better off. It asserted that the interest rates charged are as high as 20 percent, while Wall Street can secure unlimited credit at 4, 5 or 6 percent. The basis given for the assertion was that the banks are a part of the money trust, and lend their money to themselves to manipulate and control the big business of the country. The congress claims that the industrial life of America is under complete control of a banking syndicate in New York, that the railroads, the steel trust, the oil trust and all other large enterprises are dominated by the members of the syndicate by the use of the people's money, which the subservient country banks send for manipulation. The argument continues that they force the producer to sell his products at a low market by limiting his credit, utilising his own money with which to coerce him. The argument ends with the claim that banks owned and operated by the producing and laboring classes would remedy this evil and thereby greatly increase the production of wealth. If its banking knowledge is equal to its flow of oratory it may become a wonderful financier.

The formation of the brotherhood bank is an interesting experiment. It will be watched carefully by both labor and capital. If the plan is sound, hundreds of organisation banks will spring up throughout the country. We will have the machinists' bank, the carpenters' bank, the bricklayers' bank, the hodcarriers' bank and every other organisation with sufficient capital will manage its own banking affairs, thus driving Wall Street and "the money trust" out of business. Incidentally, let me remark that the banking official who so kindly gave me my information on the subject did not seem greatly disturbed at the possibility of having to learn a new trade.

A Curious Title

Among curious titles in the British peerage must certainly be reckoned that of Lord Saye and Sele. It was in its origin the Barony by Writ of Saye, created in 1313, and extinct or in abeyance by 1399. It was revived in 1447 in favor of a Fiennes of Hurstmonceaux, who took the additional title of "Sele," which comes from one of the Seals in Kent—prehaps the village of Seal, near Sevenoaks. The title of "Save" was assumed by reason of a descent from that family through the new peer's grandmother.

Profit Sharing Survey

Civic Federation's Report Arguments On Both Sides

Profit sharing in one form or another has been and is being tried on an extensive scale in American industry. In many cases it is not proving successful. The entire field of experimentation is reviewed in a report just issued by the Executive Council of the National Civic Federation. This report and testimony covering every phase of the subject have been gathered from far and wide. As to the general value of profit sharing, the report states:

"The considerable percentage of dubious results shown by this inquiry should not lead to the sweeping conclusion that all profit-sharing experiments are worthless. Many of them, from the standpoint of special local conditions or by contrast with some previous order of things, no doubt show a net improvement in the welfare of the employes affected and the morale of the plants. The real significance, both of the organised labor attitude and of the proportion of failures and doubtful results, lies in their bearing upon the possible value of profit sharing as an industrial remedy of general application.

"This, in turn, involves consideration of the fear of organised labor that the employers' real interest in profit sharing lies in its alleged usefulness as a means to weaken and disrupt the trade unions, and that with this once accomplished the employing interests would be free to regulate wages and hours to suit themselves, with no effective equality of bargaining power left in the hands of the workers.

It is not the scope of the present inquiry to examine the merits of organised labor's objection to profit sharing, nor to determine whether the interests of labor generally would be safer under profit sharing than with the economic power of organisation in its own hands. This is a very large problem in itself, second to few others in its bearing upon the future of our industrial and social institutions. Its gravity should be borne in mind in any consideration of proposed substitutes for the means which so important an element of the wage-earning class has considered necessary to secure its rights and advance its welfare ever since the beginning of the modern industrial system.

"In general, the advocates of profit sharing," the report continues, "emphasise the following arguments: It promotes more continuous service; reduces cost of production, secures more regular attendance at work, builds up confidence and creates a spirit of co-operation; gets rid of rolling stones; encourages home building; enables a company to keep its employes during rush seasons; keeps down expenses; induces salesmen as well as others interested to work harder; promotes efficiency, interest and loyalty, and increases the profits of the business."

On the other hand we have the opposite side of the question.

"The efforts of the employers were not appreciated by the men"; the report continues, "they seemed to prefer their total earnings in fixed wages with no variable element; they were suspicious of the employers' motives; they insisted upon joining unions and presenting demands in spite of the employers effort to give them a share in the extra gains of the business; when stock was sold to employes upon favorable terms they would dispose of it at a profit when the value rose, and so got the habit of watching the stock market. When the profit distribution was large the employes learned to expect a similar bonanza every year, and were disgruntled if they did not get it to say nothing of their discontent if conditions forbade any extra payment at all; and all schemes of this sort are necessarily complicated and hard to understand, so that the workers, especially of the less intelligent grades, are not easily convinced that the system really benefits them and isn't merely a device to withhold a part of what they might otherwise demand and get."

The late George W. Perkins, the first representative of the big interests to advocate "real profit sharing," expressed some very optimistic opinions upon this subject.

"I believe," says Mr. Perkins, "every business has, first of all, to earn operating expenses, depreciation and fair returns on honest capitalisation. Every business should consider that the compensation paid employes is for the purpose of earning a sum of money sufficient to pay the above mentioned items. Any profits over and above such sum should, on some percentage basis, be divided between the capital used in the business and the employes engaged in said business. In neither case should these profits be immediately withdrawn from the business; they should be left in the business for a reasonable length of time, to protect and increase its financial strength and safety and in the case of capital, its share of these

Assumption Of Many People That Science Is At War With Religion Shown To Have No Substantial Basis

BY GARRETT P. SERVISS.

"The Bible goes against science by saying that man was made out of dust, in the beginning, by God, and in His image. Science says we came from apes, without soul or conscience. How can this be? Another thing, how can you account for this: the Bible explains how earth and heavens were made (including Adam and Eve) in seven days (God's Word), while science says it took many centuries to cool off and form a sphere.—L. P."

This is one of several letters recently received challenging science in the name of the Bible. I never discuss the discrepancies between the conclusions of science and the assertions of dogmatic theology, except when necessary. But I conclude from the animosity to science which narrow minded people sometimes exhibit that there is need for occasional discussion of this matter in order that the truth may prevail, and be not driven from many minds by misrepresentation and ignorance.

Science is not opposed to religion. But it is opposed to theology when theology demands belief in things which all of man's means of obtaining real, verifiable knowledge tell him are not so.

THEOLOGY AND RELIGION

Theology is not religion, it is simply theory about religion. The Bible is not religion; it is history compiled with the theological bias of a remarkable people, and mingled with philosophical speculation, mythology, romance and poetry. Many theological scholars admit the truth of these statements, and some do not hesitate themselves to publish them.

Religion is recognition of the rule of higher power and higher intelligence than man's. If science should ever become so foolish as to oppose itself to that, it would deservedly and utterly fail. But out of, or upon, the fundamental idea of religion theological speculation has built many systems and dogmas which have had their ups and downs, their advances and retreats, their conquests and overthrows, throughout the course of human history.

All have had their "revelation," all have affirmed that they were divinely and specially inspired, and every one of them has proclaimed itself to be the sole possessor and upholder of truth! But the truth that science seeks is universal, not exclusive.

If you aver that man's means of gaining knowledge mislead him and that his knowledge is false, how do you go to work to establish your assertion? Ignoring the only method of demonstration that man possesses the very method upon which you yourself are entirely dependent for all the acts and decisions of your life, you merely say: "Believe this through faith only."

That does not appear to me to be the kind of faith that Christ had in mind when He declared in effect, that any man who could attain the faith that He spoke of, and exercise it in perfection, would be sovereign over nature. (See Mark 11, 23 and collate with Matthew 8, 26 and John 14, 12, and other significant passages that you may easily find.) But it does appear to me that Christ's thought runs parallel with the aspiration of science, which, whether avowed or not, is to approach as near as may be the supreme intelligence. Can you discern any opposition between what Christ said and the teaching of science that man's course has always been upward?

Suppose that He were living on earth today among the people of the twentieth century, as He lived among the people of Palestine in the days of the first Caesars—what course can you suppose that He would pursue with regard to the results of modern scientific progress? Would He command His followers to go back to the Ptolemaic system of astronomy, which theology covering itself with His name, once maintained for inspired truth?

Would He condemn the telephone, the automobile, the printing press, the aeroplane, wireless telegraphy, life-saving surgery, chemical progress, as the evil works of Satan? Surely no! Yet those things are the children of science only, and are based entirely upon scientific discoveries, nearly all of which have been opposed, maligned, denounced or interdicted by that same theology, until they brushed it out of their way as the rising sun dissolves the lowering mists of an autumn morning.

WOULD LEAD IN SCIENCE

Remembering the profound wisdom, the deep insight into man and nature, of the sayings of Christ fragmentarily reported in the New Testament, can you possibly imagine Him today rejecting the geological evidence concerning the vast age of the earth and of life upon the earth? Would He say: "If ye would enter into Heaven, avoid the natural history museum"?

For my part I believe that Christ on earth today would be the supreme leader of science. There is a significance never yet fully fathomed in the fact that the great advances of science have all been made in countries where Christian civilisation prevails, or where its influence has been predominant, although Christian theology, instead of taking the lead in those advances, has continually opposed them and only yielded with a bad grace when further opposition became plain folly. May that not mean that the true spirit of Christ's teaching is accordant with the spirit of science, whose constant aim is the truth and only the truth? Finally, let me make one correction: Science does not say, "We come from apes."

profits should be carried to surplus whereas in the case of employes, their share of the profits should be distributed to them in some form of security representing an interest in the business. Each employe would be required to hold such security for a reasonable length of time, say three to five years. This share of the profits should be allotted to the employes as nearly as possible on the basis of the compensation they receive.

"Only through profit sharing that is real, honest and open can we hope to find anything like a satisfactory and permanent method of arriving at the worker's fair share. I do not look upon profit sharing as a philanthropy or a form of benevolence, nor put it in the same class with gifts at Christmas time or bonuses at the end of the year. Neither do I approve or believe in any plan that even savors of giving a man something for nothing. Anything short of 'profit sharing that is real,' the kind that promotes thorough and efficient co-operation between employer and employes; the kind that makes partners of employes; the sort of profit sharing that is practiced between partners in business, is bound to result in failure and will widen rather than narrow the breach between employer and employe."

Among the forms of special distribution the report enumerates the following:

"Cash payments, determined arbitrarily by the employers, at the end of a business period, usually the year. Relief funds—sickness, accident, death, pension—maintained wholly or in part by the employer. Liberal interest to employes on savings deposited with employer. Rewards for prompt attendance or efficient work or for civic merits. Life insurance, paid by the employer, in cases based on efficiency or term of service. Loans to employes without interest or at a nominal rate. Discounts on commodities sold to employes. Bonuses, especially at Christmas or Thanksgiving. Prizes for shop suggestions or home improvements such as gardens. Free transportation. Meals supplied to employes free or at nominal prices."

A Cure By Proxy

Wan, and with black rims round his eyes, the man sat in the surgery.

"Doctor," said he, "I'm the victim of insomnia. I can't sleep if theses the least noise, such as a cat in the back yard, for instance,"

"This powder will be effective," replied the physician, after compounding a prescription.

"When do I take it, doctor?"

"You don't take it, my dear sir," was the doctor's bland reply. "You just give it to the cat in some milk."

Decide to be Strong

Don't surrender to a constant half-sick and half-well condition. Don't let indifferent health hold you back.

Lassitude, indifferent appetite, unrefreshing sleep, an "always-tired" feeling—these are some of the symptoms of a poison-clogged body due to blood poverty—anemia.

Vigoron rebuilds the health and restores vigor by enriching the blood with iron and with millions of powerful red blood cells. Blood like this cleans out the poisons that have enervated you; then comes the natural return of good health.
